

A peer-mentoring program for experienced doctoral supervisors

Introductory workshop		Closing workshop
9.00	Welcome and introduction	9.00	Welcome back
9.30	Successful PhD supervision Presentation of research-based advice and tools for good supervision	9.15	What is a good teaching portfolio? Presentation of key criteria and genre features to apply when you provide peer-feedback on each other's portfolio drafts
10.30	Coffee break	09.50	Short bio break
10.45	Peer-mentoring: Why and how? Introduction to key principles and methods in peer-observations	09.55	Peer-feedback on portfolio drafts Feedback in pairs
11.15	Planning your coming observations Calendar logistics in your groups.	10.55	Coffee break
11.45	The teaching portfolio Instructions on how to document your learning from peer-observations in your portfolio	11.10	'Peer-interactions come in many forms' Presentation and discussion of concrete tools for how to support peer learning and community building among very experienced supervisors
12.00	Working lunch with sandwiches Q & A session about supervision and the coming observations	12.00	Lunch with sandwiches Evaluation + informal chats with colleagues
12.30	End of workshop	12.30	End of workshop